

FAQ

1. Why did the split occur?
 - a. Over the last few weeks and months, the school's directors have contemplated the direction our school will take going forward and have explored potential enhancements and changes that will benefit our students, their learning, and their accessibility to our offerings. Marlysa Sullivan has decided to separate her yoga therapy program from the Pranakriya School of Yoga Healing Arts due to administrative and programmatic differences. We value the time we have spent learning from and growing with Marlysa, and we whole-heartedly wish her the best of success and growth as she creates her own school of yoga therapy.
2. I am half-way through my program (taken 5 or more courses), how do I complete the program?
 - a. If you have completed 5 or more required courses for your 500 Hour Professional Yoga Teacher Certification or Yoga Therapy certification, we will continue to accept any remaining courses you take needed to complete your program up to January 2015. If you will not complete the remaining course by that time, we will assist you in finding the additional programs you need to complete your program. Please contact Pranakriya at info@pranakriya.com for assistance.
3. I am less than half-way through my program (taken 4 or less programs), how do I complete the program?
 - a. If you are less than half-way through your program and want to continue with Pranakriya, we will transfer the courses you have taken to our new Therapeutic Applications of Yoga Certification or Tantra Hatha Yoga 500 Hour program. Please contact Pranakriya at info@pranakriya.com or view our website www.pranakriya.com for more information.
4. What if I want to finish my program with Marlysa and her new school?
 - a. If you would like to finish your program with Marlysa and her new Center for Integrative Yoga Studies, please contact her at marlysayogini@gmail.com
5. Can I take programs in both schools?

- a. You are welcome to take programs within both schools, however, if you are pursuing a certification, you would be pursuing two different certification programs. After 2015, courses do not overlap or intersect.
6. Who do I contact if I want to talk with somebody at Pranakriya about my program?
 - a. To speak with someone at Pranakriya, please contact either Jacci Gruninger 505.603.0803 or Meryl Arnett 770.617.6270 or info@pranakriya.com
7. What is going to happen to the programs I am suppose to take next year at my home studio?
 - a. Most programming will continue as scheduled. If you are unsure about a specific program happening at your home studio, please contact that studio directly to confirm their 2015 schedule.
8. I am excited about all the new programs happening within Pranakriya but when I look at the website, I don't see them scheduled on the calendar
 - a. We are excited about the new programs as well and ask that you check the website regularly for program updates.
9. What happens if I have my Yoga Therapy Certification already?
 - a. If you have completed your Yoga Therapy certification you are set with both Pranakriya and the Yoga Alliance. We hope you will continue your education as a yoga teacher/therapist.
10. What other changes are happening at the Pranakriya School of Yoga Healing Arts?
 - a. We are very excited about all the possibility unfolding for the Pranakriya School of Yoga Healing Arts. We are rolling out a Teachers Association in 2015 that will include continuing education opportunities, blogs, newsletters and audio downloads as well as a future Teachers Conference.
 - b. We will be implementing a program tracking and transcript service to help students keep track of what they have taken and what they still need to take.
 - c. We are enhancing our certification programs by returning to a focus on teaching excellence and service.
 - d. Please visit our website www.pranakriya.com for more information.
